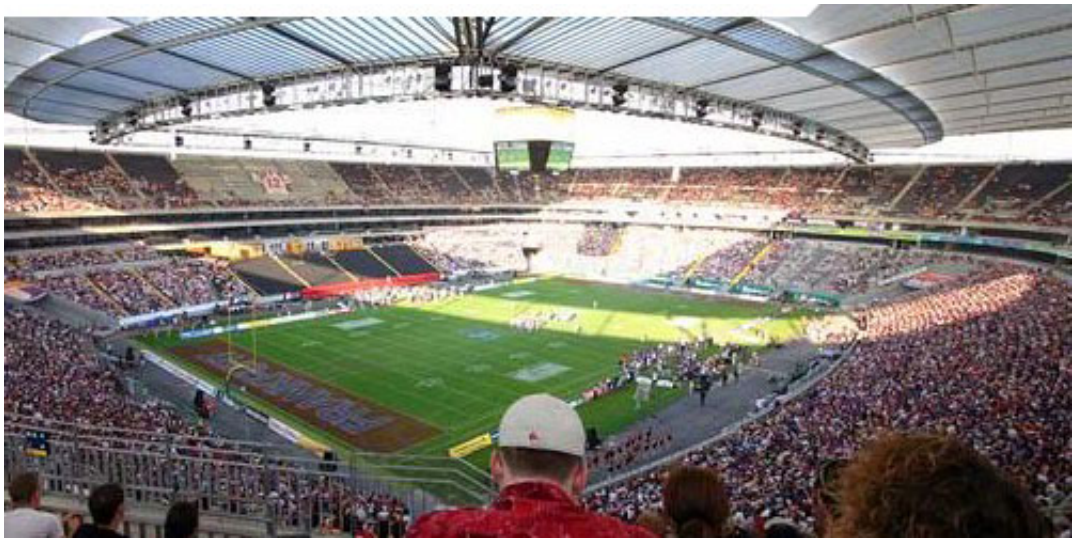
 AH-BETTING.COM was registered in May, 2008 and the first season of the service saw substantial profit being accumulated. Then, for private reasons, in May 2009, members of our team changed of work and one of them decided to keep the website. On the March 21th, a new tiptser is in charge of the main service (Called AHB, all customers was brought to the new B.S.Z service in replacement) Rating and Mathematic betting methods, to provide an improved and more stabilised version of the main service for ah-betting.com.



Who is running the website ?

Owned by a registered company (SBMI) that bought the website along with some other investments, the website is splitted between 2 people. One is in charge of AHBLive, AHBSL, AHBFR (See descriptions in "Paid Tips" section) and AHB became B.S.Z with the original A.I model method owner.

Both worked for a syndicate, some betting industry experiences later, decided to work with separate tasks on this project. Now, one is fully focussed everyday in full time researches/analysis mode, he will keep teh coverage of our Live betting service and smaller leagues services, the second one incharge of the main service of our site.. We will still provide to our members and visitors, an avenue to learn the finer techniques of Asian Handicap football betting and help identify value bets or verify information we receive for other sports via the following:

1. Use of historical data's, benchmarking and identify how the bookies rate both teams in a fixture/match-up and set Asian Handicap accordingly.

2. To identify "Traps" set by bookies on facts that they know we do not know. ("Traps" are terms used for information that bookies know that we do not or Odds and Handicap set to entice players to take up what we believe in and like to see.)

3. To assist our members and visitors to determine whether the Asian handicap set is justified and whether a bet made for or against the handicap is translated into a winning bet.

4. To identify good bets via comparison with the odds, asian handicap and motivation of a team using historical data, team form and benchmarking bookie's handicap.

WHY DO WE COVER ASIANHANDICAP FOOTBALL BETTING ?

1. Asian handicap is the preferred method of betting by most professional punters

2. More value is/can be derived

3. Less risk is involved and losing runs are minimalized

4. More opportunities to hedge your bets before the start of an event, via movements of odds and live betting

WHAT DO WE OFFERS AT AH-BETTING.COM ?

--> The main service (called AHB previously now B.S.Z with new systematic Maths betting approach and a different proofing record under his name) providing ONLY Asian Handicap picks on Soccer around the world with some K€ in liquidity and the picks will be delivered by email.

--> LIVEBETTING OFFER

 Called AHBLive, it is a new opportunity to take some odds, AH lines already down when we wanted to take them, it could be some bets to cover our pre game picks, but also an opportunity to take bets daily, on live competitions from around the world.

Based on pre game study, odds moves study, in running info, live coverage etc, they can be a good alternative for every punter that have free time daily and are able to take quick livebets in SBO/IBC.

 The price is 10€ per day = 1 credit. You can only buy per group of 10, 20, 30... credits (1 credit = 1 day of Livepicks) .Between 5 to 15 picks are posted in a day average in the chat.

B.S.Z
is the system that replaced AHB as we decided together with the AHB Tipster, to change of "Leading" tipster and promote our AHB tipster in some "back office" work and LiveBetting or accounting services. It is based on a pure mathematic model and it means also a big turnover every week end as week end have around 15 picks sent avg. You will need then to have around 15 "credits" available every week end and it means to buy a 15 credit package is worth 150€. Yes it seems a lot buy you ONLY pay for winners. It means that each received pick move one credit in "pending mode" and after the game, if that is a winner, it is deducted, if the game ends in loser, you get the credit back. But, the other good news is that every 2 lost pick, you get 1 additional credit back on your account.
